

December 2009

F&W's Ultimate Airport Dining Survival Guide

Sluggishly slow ticketing lines, airport security... and a great meal? F&W's ultimate airport dining survival guide features the best places to eat and drink in 20 airports around the country, from where to get a freshly-pressed Cuban sandwich in Miami International Airport to an excellent craft beer spot in San Francisco International Airport.

By Jennifer Salerno

NEW YORK

JOHN F. KENNEDY INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT (JFK)

Aeronuova: JetBlue's Terminal 5 has nine full-service restaurants; the best is Aeronuova, an Italian restaurant created by New York City star chef Mark Ladner, with dishes like grilled Berkshire pork chops and warm radicchio bruschetta. (Terminal 5, post-security).